

"Learning networks are the most productive and cost effective way of learning new ideas and benefiting from the experience of others. In addition, they build valuable relationships for executives in the industry to broaden horizons and share experiences."

Marlowe Senske
Clark Consulting Healthcare Group

"This group has been one of the greatest resources for me in my career. There are no other conferences or forums that let me meet with the top leaders in managed care and exchange ideas in a challenging and open manner."

Brad Sher
BryanLGH

"It is clearly the most interactive group I've ever attended."

Mike Swank
Butler Health System

"This is an outstanding network of professionals who dialogue in real time to share experiences, help one another with common challenges, and celebrate our victories."

Bob Rutledge
Cooks Children's Hospital

"It most definitely is still the most valuable meeting I can attend out of all the options I have available to me... I have developed lifetime contacts with the most seasoned professionals in the industry!"

Cindy Parker
Northwestern Memorial

"The most valuable experience in my healthcare years... It gives me the opportunity to grow professionally and bring practical ideas back to my organization... a constant fusion of strategies and ideas that push change in our organization... networking opportunities with the best of the best... a place to ask the hard questions... a place to share... a time to learn... the gathering of some of the brightest leaders in the country."

Barbara Newberry
Memorial Hospital, Colorado Springs

"The depth of talent, expertise, diverse experiences, coupled with the open and real conversations make this one of my most valued gatherings."

Carlos Arce
Deaconess Billings Clinic

"This is a very safe environment to give and get information that can be used to make your organization better."

Kathy Franklin
ThedaCare

"This group has been and continues to be my most valuable development resource."

Jane Dowd
Evanston Northwestern

"The value of the face-to-face meeting of peers around the country is priceless. The networking gives me specific ideas to take back to my organization as well as a group of individuals I can call anytime during the year to get help for things that come up at our organization."

Debbie Kiser
Novant Health

"Because the information being presented at NIHCL meetings comes directly from my peers in the industry rather than from think-tank members or consulting firms, the content of presentations is practical, relevant, and market-tested."

Rick O'Donnell
